

Fabiola Monjaraz

September 27, 1977 - January 23, 2026

Fabiola Monjaraz was a loving wife, a devoted mother, and a woman of deep faith whose life touched many hearts. She is survived by her beloved husband, Manuel Roque Monjaraz, and her three cherished sons: Angel Dorantes, Jonathan Dorantes Monjaraz, and Favian Monjaraz.

Fabiola had a gentle spirit and a strong heart. She found peace in taking evening walks and strength in her faith. She loved attending church and devoted much of her life to prayer—not only for her family, but for the entire world.

She had a true calling for education and for children. Fabiola deeply loved her work as a teacher, caring for and guiding young children in after-school programs. She was dedicated to her personal and professional growth and was pursuing her master's degree, reflecting her commitment, perseverance, and love for learning.

Family meant everything to Fabiola. She loved her children, her husband, and her dogs with all her heart. She always took care of her family and was especially devoted to her husband, placing their needs above her own. She was known for being loving yet strict, guiding her family with discipline, values, and love.

Fabiola also took pride in her appearance. She enjoyed doing her makeup and always liked to look beautiful and well put together, reflecting her inner strength and grace.

She will be deeply missed by all who knew and loved her. Though she is no longer with us, Fabiola Monjaraz will live forever in our minds and in our hearts.
