“ I was fortunate to take care of Mr. Trevino as his nurse many times while in the hospital. No matter what he was in for, or condition, he was always smiling, and always happy. He typically did not like lying in the bed and was either found standing looking out his window at whatever view he had from his room, or walking around the unit. He also loved talking about his family and going fishing. I was saddened to discover he passed away, as he was always a pleasant person to be around. God bless him, and god bless his family and loved ones.
